As southeastern North Carolina endures another hot summer, the heat and humidity have set in. For many, the air conditioner is on full blast and doing all it can to beat the heat. Many senior citizens spend their days without the luxury of air-conditioned homes or circulating air that helps during these scorching temperature days.

As a cooperative, Four County EMC commits to putting its members first. With a concern for the community and focusing on member needs, Four County EMC has donated fans to local agencies for over 26 years to help senior citizens beat the heat. During May, Senior Energy Advisor Chris Ingram delivered fans to agencies that serve these senior citizens and ensure that they are not forgotten as the temperatures rise in the area.

Chris stated, “I look forward to taking the fans to the agencies each year, it’s for a great cause, and I am happy to work for a cooperative that partakes in giving back to the community. The agencies we deal with are always welcoming and helpful to our seniors, and I am happy to work with them to get these fans to those in need.”

This year Four County EMC donated fans to:

- Duplin County Services for the Aged, Kenansville
- Sampson County Department of Aging, Clinton
- Garland Senior Center, Garland
- Bladen County Division of Aging, Elizabethtown
- Columbus County Department of Aging, Whiteville
- Pender Adult Services, Burgaw

If anyone wants to donate a new fan, please call your closest senior center.

Save energy by sealing air leaks and holes where plumbing pipes run through walls. Also check wall-mounted cabinets for plumbing holes or air gaps in the back. Fill any holes or gaps with spray foam. Wear protective gloves and use a damp rag for cleanup.

CO-OP CONNECTIONS BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT

Traxx Chic Vintiques

Traxx Chic Vintiques is a one-of-a-kind location sure to satisfy all shopping needs. Whether you're in the market for a trendy new outfit, a new piece of jewelry, a rare antique, or beautiful home décor, they've got it all.

Owners Megan Thompson and Paul Watts II love antiques and boutiques. They thought, why not combine the two, and so they did! The place has been open for a little over a year and has flourished since day one. They have over 40 vendors that contribute to making the store a creative place to shop. They offer collectible items, clothing and accessories, jellies, home furnishings, and more.

When you enter the store into the main room, the boutique section, this is the area of the store where Four County members receive 10% off when using their Co-op Connections card. The other areas are the vendor locations where you can find rare and unique antiques and home goods.

The humbling thing about this store is the love and support the owners have for their local community. Being from the area, knowing the people, and having their children grow up here, it is important to them personally that the community flourishes. Ms. Thompson stated that she and her fiancé Paul wanted to bring life to Clarkton and be able to offer the residents somewhere local to shop. They love meeting and bonding with the people that come into their store. They love the relationships they have built and look forward to continuing to meet new people and providing a fun service to the area.

Follow Traxx Chic Vintiques on Facebook. This store is located across the railroad tracks in Clarkton at 104 North Elm Street. Always remember, shop local!

Traxx Chic Vintiques is now a Co-op Connections participant! Four County Electric members can save 10% on all boutique items!

LINWORKER SPOTLIGHT: MATTHEW GREENOUGH

Matthew Greenough has over eight years of linework experience. He has been with the Burgaw plant crew for around three years. Demonstrating a strong work ethic, Matthew builds lines to add to Four County’s existing 5,000 miles of territory. Lee Bain, the plant crew’s operation foreman, stated, “Matthew is an asset to the crew; he’s a good leader and always takes the initiative to help any way he can.”

On his days off, Matthew and his brother work providing landscaping services specializing in vegetation overgrowth management. They tackle all sorts of projects, including excavation needs.

Matthew told us there is nowhere else he’d rather be but here in his hometown. He grew up in Burgaw and graduated from Pender High in 2013. He became a lineman to better himself and to be able to provide for his family. Matthew and his wife, Kayla, have one son and another child on the way. When Matthew isn’t working on powerlines, he spends his time hunting and fishing as much as possible with his son, Kayden. Matthew is a true outdoorsman; rain or shine, he doesn’t mind putting his work boots on and getting out in the elements.

Dial 8-1-1 BEFORE You Dig

August 11 is 811 Day! This is a reminder to dial 8-1-1 no later than three working days before any digging project begins. Underground utility lines must be marked for safety. Calling 8-1-1 is free and simple, preventing harm, fines, and costly repairs.

According to North Carolina 811, an underground utility line is damaged every nine minutes because someone decided to dig without first calling 811. A call must be placed to 811 before every digging project, from simple landscaping projects to building a deck or installing a mailbox.

One call to 811 links you to a local call center that notifies all appropriate utility companies of your intent to dig. Once all lines are marked with stakes, flags, or paint, remember to respect the marks and dig with care. Each utility will mark lines in a designated color. Be aware of the tolerance zone, which is 24 inches on either side of the marked utility, and use extreme caution if you must dig within this zone.

For more information about the safe digging process, visit nc811.org.
